The College of Arts and Humanities (ARHU) produces creative problem solvers and global visionaries who are ready to serve their communities and the larger society through a wide range of careers.

ARHU BY THE NUMBERS

Experience the tight-knit feel of a small liberal arts college with the perks of a national research university.

- 14 departments and three schools
- 8:1 student to faculty ratio
- 20 research centers
- 31/37 academic majors / minors
- 330 tenured/tenure-track faculty
- 12 university buildings
- 3,067 undergraduate and graduate students
- 36% students of color

LOCATION ADVANTAGE

The rich resources of the Baltimore-Washington, D.C., metropolitan area provide faculty and students with unparalleled research opportunities and the chance to work with organizations, institutions and landmarks like the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, the National Aquarium, U.S. Congress and Mount Vernon.
The Be Worldwide. Get Worldready. initiative prepares students to adapt and thrive in the workplace and to shape the kind of global citizen they can become. Our new initiative creatively integrates career preparation in the ARHU academic experience by:

Offering strategic career preparation and integrated career and academic advising.

Engage with the University Career Center @ ARHU office and academic advisors to develop an impressive portfolio of internship, research and study abroad experiences.

Engaging faculty to develop new and reimagined courses, majors and minors.

- Immersive Media Design (B.A.)
- Philosophy, Politics, and Economics (B.A.)
- Religions of the Ancient Middle East (B.A.)
- Arts Leadership minor
- Humanities, Health, and Medicine minor
- Latin American Studies minor

Providing opportunities to apply scholarship to practice.

Work alongside faculty and partners, including alumni, in the region and around the world through classroom, internship and job opportunities.

ARHU Terps who are able to communicate the real-world value of an arts and humanities degree.

Understand and articulate how your coursework provides the knowledge and skills employers and graduate schools seek through faculty, career and academic advising.

- Creativity
- Analytical & critical thinking
- Ethical reasoning
- Communication
- Emotional intelligence
- Collaboration
- Digital literacy
- Global understanding
- Resilience
- Self-knowledge
- Civic engagement
- Intercultural competence

---

For information about scholarships, please visit arhu.umd.edu/scholarships.